

K9 "Hampshire"

Breed: Chocolate Labrador Retriever
Weight: 70 lbs
Birthday: September 16, 2016
Entered Service: November 2018
Favorite Toy: Anything circular
Fun Fact: Hampshire has a chipped tooth, which gives true meaning to one of his many nicknames: "Chocolate Chip."

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Zeus"

Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight: 88 lbs
Birthday: July 31, 2015
Entered Service: November 2016
Favorite Toy: Tennis ball
Fun Fact: Zeus enjoys laying on the floor so kids can use him as a pillow while they watch TV.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Coach"

Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight: 73 lbs
Birthday: December 14, 2014
Entered Service: November 2016
Favorite Toy: Tennis ball
Fun Fact: When Coach is off-duty, he shows off his acrobatic skills by leaping into the air to pop bubbles with his handler's son.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Cali"

Breed: Chocolate Labrador Retriever
Weight: 54 lbs
Birthday: December 18, 2017
Entered Service: February 2019
Favorite Toy: Blue tug-of-war toy or any ball
Fun Fact: Cali has two ribs that stick out further than the others.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Betty"

Breed: Black Labrador Retriever
Weight: 54 lbs.
Birthday: October 11, 2012
Entered Service: March 2014
Favorite Toy: Any stuffed toy
Fun Fact: Betty's whole body wiggles when she gets excited.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Elsa"

Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight: 55 lbs.
Birthday: December 4, 2014
Entered Service: November 2016
Favorite Toy: Kong
Fun Fact: Elsa is very energetic, highly motivated, and loves being outside.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K-9 "CoCo"
2018

#97

K9 "CoCo"

Breed:	Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight:	56 lbs.
Birthday:	December 11, 2016
Entered Service:	May 2018
Favorite Toy:	Rope
Fun Fact:	Hershey Park in Pennsylvania actually named her Coco. Her full name is "Coco Beans."

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K-9 "Phred"
2018

#67

K9 "Phred"

Breed:	Black Labrador Retriever
Weight:	80 lbs.
Birthday:	September 26, 2012
Entered Service:	January 2014
Favorite Toy:	Water bottle
Fun Fact:	Phred loves carrots for treats.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Freya"

Breed:	Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight:	60 lbs.
Birthday:	February 21, 2015
Entered Service:	November 2017
Favorite Toy:	Football
Fun Fact:	Freya loves to run (aka "zoomies") as fast as she can around the backyard when she gets home from work every day.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Gina"

Breed:	Black Labrador Retriever
Weight:	55 lbs.
Birthday:	May 29, 2006
Entered Service:	May 2008
Retired:	October 2012
Favorite Toy:	Any toy that squeaks
Fun Fact:	Gina sleeps on her back with all four legs in the air and snores as loud as thunder.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Dune"

Breed:	Black Labrador Retriever
Weight:	75 lbs.
Birthday:	January 12, 2007
Entered Service:	September 2008
Retired:	September 2016
Favorite Toy:	A stuffed duck that squeaks
Fun Fact:	When thrown a ball, Dune almost never drops it. He's better at catching than any Washington Redskins football player!

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Bradley"

Breed:	Black Labrador Retriever
Weight:	50 lbs
Birthday:	October 23, 2004
Entered Service:	November 2006
Retired:	March 2014
Favorite Toy:	Plastic water bottle
Fun Fact:	Bradley is currently the oldest retired CIA "Spy Dog."

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Hunter"

Breed:	Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight:	63 lbs.
Birthday:	September 23, 2010
Entered Service:	December 2011
Retired:	May 2018
Favorite Toy:	"Chuck it" ball toss
Fun Fact:	Hunter retrieves canned or bottled beverages on command.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Dino"

Breed:	German Shepherd
Weight:	115 lbs.
Birthday:	December 18, 2000
Entered Service:	October 2002
Retired:	May 2008
Favorite Toy:	Kong
Fun Fact:	Kids taught Dino to bite objects by telling him the command, "Staples."

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 "Laverne"

Breed:	Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight:	60 lbs.
Birthday:	December 13, 2005
Entered Service:	March 2008
Retired:	March 2014
Favorite Toy:	Any that she can destroy
Fun Fact:	Laverne's nickname is "Leapin' Laverne" because she is always jumping.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching delivery trucks, buildings, vehicles, packages and assisting CIA Police Officers. The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when necessary.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowls, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All Star Games, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and plaques after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.