6. @ALBERTI - [KUNZE] was given Yellow No. 25869 including some of our traces on ALBERTI as well as the BDC results for retention. [ ] noted that it was interesting that ALBERTI had made such frequent trips to Berlin in 1952 and 1953 and that he had remained in Berlin so long on each trip.

7. @ALBERTI - [FLEMING] turned over a memo from Frl. KUNZE, giving a rundown on ALBERTI's various relatives.

4. Further [UPHILL] Handling of Security Problem [UJRANDOM] - Near the middle of the session, [BERNHARDT] summed up where he felt [UPHILL] stood and where they were going on further investigative action. [FLEMING] said a few words on the same subject near the end of the meeting. The gist of their comments was:

A. [BERNHARDT] said that it should not be assumed that [UPHILL] had forgotten that, on the basis of [REVISION]'s info, there still were additional penetrations of [UPHILL]. However, because of a sheer lack of manpower, [UPHILL] had had to zero in on the one thing that seemed most tangible and that might be broken through intensive investigative action - the [UJDROWSY] complex. At this point, [UPHILL] is carrying on with follow up investigations of @ALBERTI and [@GREGOR]. [UPHILL] also expects to devote considerable attention to the "Nachfolger" puzzle and also the "Mutual Assistance" matter - although both were sufficiently vague and intangible so that investigation would be tough. [BERNHARDT] also indicated that consideration had been given to the possibility of increasing the size of the small [UPHILL] staff working on [UJRANDOM] matters in the future; however, for the time being this will not be done.
