August 1954

My dear [ ]

I received your last letter, dated 11 August 1954. Thank you.

My friends, Kalin and George, have written to me. I am happy that they succeeded to accomplish that which was necessary for which I am also thankful.

Our meeting, organizational, will be held on 4 September and I am absolutely certain in its success. On the following day we will have a public protest meeting in connection with the 10th anniversary of the enslavement of Bulgaria by the communists. On the same day we will have a second organizational meeting. That which must be accomplished will be done.

I will expect to hear from you pertaining to the date of our second meeting which would be well to take place without delay following the closing of our meetings in Toronto. However, I ask you to be kind enough to advise me of this at your earliest convenience so that I will have time to inform you that I have received your letter and also to get ready to travel. The place will be the same. You will only advise me of the hour and day. If you will not be able to come personally to the hotel where I stayed before, I will be there again, your friend will find me at the designated place in the hall below. We will have to arrange a means of introduction. You will inform me of this.

I take this opportunity to advise you that I have completed my plan which consists of three parts. The main goal, which I am presenting to my friends, is the organizing of resistance. In order to arrive at that moment when it is possible to organize and carry out an internal resistance with efficiency and results, it is necessary to carry out in advance (first phase) internal intelligence. After we have obtained from it the desired results and during the time it is being carried out, we will have to establish an internal support network (second phase) after which, when the intelligence gathering is functioning with results and we have an internal support network, it will be possible, at the proper moment, to proceed towards assistance on a larger scale. When we see each other, I will give you a written plan. Of course, carrying it out requires time, since, especially as it concerns the persons who will be used for intelligence work, selection has to be precise and they will have to be well prepared. As I told you earlier, I will personally will carry it out and as for the work to be carried out later, I will personally direct it accepting full responsibility. However, details when we see each other.

Please accept my most sincere regards,

Yours,
