MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence

FROM: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT Proliferated World Paper

I find the work on the proliferated world paper quite promising and even though there will continue to be some question as to how much the finished product will help, the subject is of such importance that every effort to get insights should be pursued. The thrust indicated in this paper seems right to me. I think [redacted] package is a good start. 25X1
I also share [redacted] question about whether we'll get something 25X1 useful through this process but I think it would be worth pursuing in order to build up our perception on this subject to whatever extent.
At the same time, after we get the input from [redacted] tasking, I would 25X1
see what the outside experts [redacted] suggests produce. 25X1
