Dear General Wilmott:

I appreciated the opportunity to participate in your Intelligence and Electronic Warfare Systems Program Review conference on the 26th and 27th of April. This conference gave me a much better appreciation of the difficulties facing the Army and the other military services in providing tactical intelligence during active military operations. I have discussed this with John McMahon, our Executive Director and Deputy Director of Central Intelligence-Designee. We have agreed that our participation in the October review would more usefully be made on a somewhat broader basis, a topic I will discuss with you at our 13 May meeting here. My particular thanks to Col. Owen Knox for his assistance in preparing me for the conference.

Again, thank you for your kind hospitality. I look forward to seeing you on the 13th.

Sincerely,

25X1
