K9 “Hampshire”

Breed: Chocolate Labrador Retriever
Weight: 70 lbs
Birthday: September 16, 2016
Entered Service: November 2018
Favorite Toy: Anything circular
Fun Fact: Hampshire has a chipped tooth, which gives true meaning to one of his many nicknames: “Chocolate Chip.”

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. CIA K9s are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching everything from vehicles, buildings, vehicles, packages and clothing. CIA K9s have also provided assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also been involved in numerous drug and people searches, and has competed in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Exhibitor Track and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 “Zeus”

Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight: 88 lbs
Birthday: July 31, 2015
Entered Service: November 2016
Favorite Toy: Tennis ball
Fun Fact: Zeus enjoys laying on the floor so kids can use him as a pillow while they watch TV.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. CIA K9s are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching everything from vehicles, buildings, vehicles, packages and clothing. CIA K9s have also provided assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also been involved in numerous drug and people searches, and has competed in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Exhibitor Track and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 “Coach”

Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight: 73 lbs
Birthday: December 14, 2014
Entered Service: November 2010
Favorite Toy: Tennis ball
Fun Fact: When Coach is off-duty, he shows off his acrobatic skills by leaping into the air to pop bubbles with his handler’s son.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by following military tracks, buildings, vehicles, packages and subjects (CIA Police Officers). The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Fireworks, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police K9 Association Detector Dog Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 “Cali”

Breed: Chocolate Labrador Retriever
Weight: 54 lbs
Birthday: December 18, 2017
Entered Service: February 2019
Favorite Toy: Blue tug-of-war toy or any ball
Fun Fact: Cali has two ribs that stick out further than the others.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by following military tracks, buildings, vehicles, packages and subjects (CIA Police Officers). The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Fireworks, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police K9 Association Detector Dog Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 “Betty”

- Breed: Black Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 54 lbs.
- Birthday: October 11, 2012
- Entered Service: March 2014
- Favorite Toy: Any stuffed toy
- Fun Fact: Betty's whole body wiggles when she gets excited.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 units are trained to detect all types of explosives by滨松ing memory traces, buildings, vehicles, packages, and suspicious CIA Police Officers. The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K-9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K-9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detection Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 “Elsa”

- Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 55 lbs.
- Birthday: December 4, 2014
- Entered Service: November 2016
- Favorite Toy: Kong
- Fun Fact: Elsa is very energetic, highly motivated, and loves being outside.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 units are trained to detect all types of explosives by滨松ing memory traces, buildings, vehicles, packages, and suspicious CIA Police Officers. The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K-9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K-9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detection Trials and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 “CoCo”

- Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 56 lbs.
- Birthday: December 11, 2016
- Entered Service: May 2018
- Favorite Toy: Rope
- Fun Fact: Hershey Park in Pennsylvania actually named her Coco. Her full name is “Coco Beans.”

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching for hidden drugs, buildings, vehicles,手掌 and_item (CIA Police Officers). The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Dog and the World Police and Fire Games.

---

K9 “Phred”

- Breed: Black Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 80 lbs.
- Birthday: September 26, 2012
- Entered Service: January 2014
- Favorite Toy: Water bottle
- Fun Fact: Phred loves carrots for treats.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by searching for hidden drugs, buildings, vehicles,手掌 and_item (CIA Police Officers). The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Dog and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 “Freyya”

- Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 60 lbs.
- Birthday: February 21, 2015
- Entered Service: November 2017
- Favorite Toy: Football
- Fun Fact: Freya loves to run (aka. “zoomies”) as fast as she can around the backyard when she gets home from work every day.

The mission of the K-9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K-9 trainees are trained to detect all types of explosives by following human tracks, buildings, vehicles, packages and flushing out CIA Police Officers. The K-9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K-9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Fireworks, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K-9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detective Track and the World Police and Fire Games.

---

K9 “Gina”

- Breed: Black Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 55 lbs.
- Birthday: May 28, 2006
- Entered Service: May 2008
- Retired: October 2012
- Favorite Toy: Any toy that squeaks
- Fun Fact: Gina sleeps on her back with all four legs in the air and snores as loud as thunder.

The mission of the K-9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K-9 trainees are trained to detect all types of explosives by following human tracks, buildings, vehicles, packages and flushing out CIA Police Officers. The K-9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K-9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageants, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Fireworks, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K-9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detective Track and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 “Dune”

Breed: Black Labrador Retriever
Weight: 75 lbs.
Birthday: January 12, 2007
Entered Service: September 2006
Retired: September 2016
Favorite Toy: A stuffed duck that squeaks
Fun Fact: When thrown a ball, Dune almost never drops it. He’s better at catching than any Washington Redskins football player!

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by snuffling through vehicles, buildings, packages, and garbage. The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, MTV Video Music Awards, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympic Games.

The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Track and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 “Bradley”

Breed: Black Labrador Retriever
Weight: 50 lbs.
Birthday: October 23, 2004
Entered Service: November 2006
Retired: March 2014
Favorite Toy: Plastic water bottle
Fun Fact: Bradley is currently the oldest retired CIA “Spy Dog.”

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by snuffing through vehicles, buildings, packages, and garbage. The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, MTV Video Music Awards, Major League Baseball All-Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympic Games.

The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Track and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 “Hunter”

- Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
- Weight: 63 lbs.
- Birthday: September 23, 2010
- Entered Service: December 2011
- Retired: May 2018
- Favorite Toy: “Chuck it” ball toss
- Fun Fact: Hunter retrieves canned or bottled beverages on command.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by sniffing money, mail, buildings, vehicles, packages and clothing (DHS Police Officers). The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Track and the World Police and Fire Games.

K9 “Dino”

- Breed: German Shepherd
- Weight: 115 lbs.
- Birthday: December 18, 2002
- Entered Service: October 2002
- Retired: May 2008
- Favorite Toy: Kong
- Fun Fact: Kids taught Dino to bite objects by telling him the command, “Shakes.”

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by sniffing money, mail, buildings, vehicles, packages and clothing (DHS Police Officers). The K9 Unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously supported many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Festival, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Detector Track and the World Police and Fire Games.
K9 "Laverne"

Breed: Yellow Labrador Retriever
Weight: 60 lbs.
Birthday: December 13, 2005
Entered Service: March 2008
Retired: March 2014
Favorite Toy: Any that she can destroy
Fun Fact: Laverne's nickname is "Leapin' Laverne" because she is always jumping.

The mission of the K9 Unit is to protect the worldwide assets and personnel of the CIA. K9 teams are trained to detect all types of explosives by smelling travel items, buildings, vehicles, packages and clothing. CIA Police Officers.
The K9 unit also provides assistance to other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies when needed.

The CIA K9 Unit has previously assisted many external events, including Super Bowl, Miss Universe Pageant, Major League Baseball All Star Game, the National Capital 4th of July Fireworks, and the Winter and Summer Olympics. The CIA K9 Unit has also taken home numerous trophies and prizes after competing in the Regional and National United States Police Canine Association Governor's Cup and the World Police and Fire Games.