Admiral Stansfield Turner, USN
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

The Central Intelligence Retirees Association extends to you its sincere best wishes as you become the Director of Cental Intelligence. We are gratified that you will attend our luncheon on 1 April and offer a few words to those in attendance. You'll receive a warm welcome from a friendly audience.

The Central Intelligence Retirees Association, CIRA for short, is made up of those who have labored long and successfully for the Central Intelligence Agency and who now hold retired status. The enclosed copy of our by-laws sets forth our purposes and the criteria for membership. A recent amendment creates two new categories of member, Honorary and Associate. Each requires significant service with the Agency.

Since membership is open to all who meet the criteria, CIRA includes people from all components of the Agency. They represent a wide variety of grade levels and official responsibilities as well as a vast reservoir of talent and experience. Individuals now retiring from CIA are made aware of CIRA during their retirement processing.

CIRA stands ready to assist the Central Intelligence Agency in any way consistent with our purposes. As the only body whose membership is confined to former employees of the Agency, our loyalties to CIA and its missions remain undisturbed. We pray that all success will attend your efforts in the days ahead and assure you of our continuing interest in the affairs and activities of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Sincerely yours,

Robert M. Gaynor
