Uruguay... To Where?

What is the future for the Iraqis? Their country is still a country of war, with no end in sight.

The situation is critical, and the time is running out. The US is trying to create a new Iraq, and the world is watching. The Iraqis are waiting for a solution, and they are growing tired of the political game.

What is happening in Iraq is a tragedy, and it is affecting the whole region. The world must take action to stop the violence and bring peace to Iraq.
