PROJECT RENEWAL

Background

The purpose of this paper is to serve as a renewal and redesignation of Project IUDEPOT as Project IUTRAIN. This project, formerly operated as IUDEPOT, was transferred to the Special Operations Division for review and redirection toward the maximum cold war utilization of formerly contracted and trained hot war assets. During FY 1966 a number of surveys were made of the agents and possible means of their individual operational use explored. All appropriate Agency Divisions and Staffs have been advised of their availability for operational assignments and provided extensive detailed biographic data. Presently four of these agents are on long range assignment in Viet-Nam under FE auspices. Additionally, four agents are performing part time services for area Divisions, three of whom are abroad. A number of Divisions and Staffs have indicated operational interest in certain others and it is hoped they can be employed to meet various Agency needs. Those agents found to be of interest will be transferred to the consumer element. All IUDEPOT agents in whom no interest is shown will be terminated by the end of FY 1966.

1. Current Objectives

Through the reorientation of existing capabilities within Project IUDEPOT to develop, provide and maintain a training cadre capable of meeting requirements for special para-military training, generally contingency in nature, which cannot be met by the Office of Training. It is believed that such a cadre will be kept well occupied in the satisfaction of numerous training needs ranging from the usual tutorial type for IUAMICE small groups to larger IUJEWEL groups. Additionally, the cadre will be able to respond immediately to the frequent "crash" needs of providing specialized or brush-up training to personnel departing on short notice for overseas under both official and non-official cover.

2. Changes

The establishment of the IUTRAIN cadre will carry out not only all changes outlined in the last renewal of IUDEPOT but will further reduce to six the number of personnel working solely toward the goals outlined above.

Primary changes consist of the following:

- a. Release of three safehouses, one safeapartment, two official safeoffices and the Alexandria DOB Headquarters site.
- b. Reduction of the TVA from 22 to 8. This will be further reduced to 3, relying on occasional use of military motor pools or privately owned vehicles to augment necessary transportation.
- c. Reduction in staff, military and contract personnel from 48 to 16. This figure will be further reduced to 6, consisting of the Project Chief, assisted by 4 instructors and 1 training assistant.
- d. Intra-Agency transfer for cold war operational use or termination of all IUDEPOT assets formerly held in satisfaction of hot war requirements.

e. Transfer of all excess property and equipment to Office of Logistics.

3. Intelligence Production

Not applicable to the project inasmuch as the primary goal will be that of training rather than performing operational tasks from which intelligence might be derived.

4. Effectiveness

Actual effectiveness cannot be judged until the program has been implemented and tested; however, the concept of such a training element is based on proven effectiveness of the training performed by Project IUDEPOT in the past when confronted with problems similar to those anticipated in the future.

5. Problems

There have been no unresolved problems in the past and none are anticipated. Since it is envisaged that training will be conducted under either official or unofficial cover, and be performed both in the Z. I. and abroad, close liaison will be maintained with Office of Security, Central Cover Staff and Area Divisions concerned.

6. Liaison

The project has had no liaison with other governments, intelligence or security services. In conducting external training (overseas), any necessary liaison will be coordinated through the appropriate Area Division.

7. Interagency Coordination

Liaison or coordination of necessary activities pertaining to the project is maintained with other U. S. Government Agencies through appropriate Agency offices. This is effected on an ad hoc basis with individual Army Commands, Department of the Interior and so forth.

8. Plans

The composition of the IUTRAIN training element will provide for the Special Operations Division and the Clandestine Services a small, versatile cadre of personnel capable of effectively responding to contingency crises requiring special PM or tailored FI, CI or CA training on a world wide basis which cannot be met by OTR. Training sites presently available within the United States range from military type barracks and classroom facilities to field living areas encompassing swamps, desert and mountain terrain well suited for survival training. Training will be conducted for various categories of personnel - staff, contract, and third country nationals, overtly or "black", both within the United States and abroad. Primary limitations which may affect conduct of the project lie in the reduced number of instructors comprising the group; therefore, the acceptance of given requirements could be subject to the availability of supplemental instructors from other units of SOD or OTR.

9. Costs

All costs related to a specific training requirement, regardless of nature, amount or purpose, will be transferred to the appropriate consumer.

Costs anticipated for the support of Project IUTRAIN are reflected in sub-paragraph c. below.

a. Estimated Costs for FY 1966
