Sonderkommando: A special unit of German troops. About 600 men.

Originally organized for operations against the Allies. The unit was deployed in Belgium, all of its members stationed throughout all fronts and involved in regular counter service. The troops were loyal and effective.

The group in this area was occupied by the British forces. The infantry and other agencies. The group was captured by the British forces about the 10th of January 1945. The group was captured by the British forces about the 15th of January 1945.

A group of about 3000 men, consisting of 15 trained officers.

Since the group was captured by the British, they have been transferred to the British. The group was composed of trained officers and other personnel. At the present time, the group is organized to carry out the same mission as before.

The group is not captured by the British, the group continues its original mission. The group is not captured by the British, the group is not captured by the British.

SECRET

DECLASSIFIED AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
SOURCES METHODS EXEMPTION 3828
NAZI WAR CRIMES DISCLOSURE ACT
DATE 2006