

Adenauer Here Monday For Talks and Degrees

Associated Press

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will arrive in Washington next Monday for informal talks with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The West German Embassy yesterday announced the itinerary for the 80-year-old statesman's seven-day trip to the United States. Adenauer last visited this country a year ago.

It previously had been reported from Bonn that Adenauer would receive honorary degrees from Yale and Marquette Universities, his fourth and fifth American doctorates.

Adenauer's plane is due in New York next Saturday. After a weekend in New York, the German leader will take part in Yale University commencement exercises Monday at New Haven, Conn. From Yale, he will fly to Washington.

On Tuesday, Adenauer will confer with Dulles at the State Department. The next day he will be honor guest at a White House luncheon given by Mr. Eisenhower.

After a one-day return visit to New York, during which he is scheduled to address the Council on Foreign Relations, Adenauer will fly to Chicago to speak Friday at a luncheon of the Executives' Club.

Later that day, Adenauer will travel to Milwaukee to receive an honorary doctorate from Marquette. Immediately after-
