DAILY BRIEF

*Congo: (Information as of 0430 EST) Belgian paratroops which landed in Stanleyville at 2300 EST yesterday apparently have cleared the city of effective resistance.

The five American consular officials held by the rebels are safe. As many as twenty European civilians were killed by the rebels this morning and several others were wounded. Dr. Carlson is reported dead.

Only two Belgian soldiers were wounded in the drop. Although at least 3 of the 13 US planes taking part in the operation were hit by small arms fire, none was disabled, and no US casualties were incurred.

The Van der Walle column which approached Stanleyville from the direction of Lubutu is reported to be in the city.

African reaction to the drop is likely to be intense and unfavorable, and anti-American demonstrations can be expected in many African capitals.

African UN delegates are already expressing their resentment against the US and Belgians. A Guinean official has warned that intervention in the Congo would kill US hopes of receiving African and possibly Asian support on the crucial Article 19 issue in the upcoming General Assembly. *Panama: (Information as of 0400 EST) Extremist elements will try again today to stir up agitation against the Robles government's handling of the Canal issue.

Prompt action by security forces yesterday won the first round for the government against Communist-led student disturbances and the National Guard continues to maintain order.

Communists who dominate the student unions have called a sit-in strike for 24 November at the University of Panama. They hope to use the university, which is off limits to the National Guard, as a focal point for organizing antigovernment efforts.

[Some pro-Castro student leaders want to turn the demonstrations into violence against the Canal Zone, but student federation president Victor Avila--just returned from Moscow--prefers to concentrate on arousing strong public resentment against the Robles government and the Guard.] Avila has called leftist unions and other radical groups to meet with students this evening, probably to encourage a general strike and to organize a protest march for 25 November.

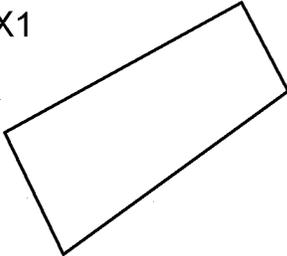

Jorge Illueca, whose forced resignation as chief negotiator in the Canal talks and resulting feud with Foreign Minister Eleta touched off the present uproar, seems to be making the most of the situation. He is encouraging several of the groups involved in agitation efforts, especially the students. [redacted]

France-UK: France is determined to continue development of the "Concorde" supersonic transport despite London's desire to withdraw from the project.

Paris is still hopeful that Britain will not drop the "Concorde" project entirely. [As a means of persuading the British not to renege, France has threatened to take the case to the International Court of Justice. The French press has voiced some suspicion that London may plan to settle for a commercial deal that will relieve Britain of development costs.]

NOTES

West Germany - EEC: The Erhard government began yesterday a series of intragovernmental meetings in Bonn, designed to pave the way for its agreement--possibly by the end of the month--to a unified grain price in the EEC. Although Erhard hopes to use his agreement to price unification to obtain commitments from the other EEC countries regarding European political union and the Kennedy Round, Bonn has delayed on grains so long that it probably does not have much leverage left.

*Communist China - UN: Peiping has again asserted that its long-standing refusal to agree to any "two-Chinas solution" in the UN is "absolutely unalterable." In a 22 November People's Daily editorial dealing with nuclear weapons control, the Chinese dismissed any proposals to take part in talks within the framework of the United Nations. The editorial declared, "China will have nothing to do with the United Nations as long as it fails to restore to the CPR its legitimate rights as the sole legal government representing the Chinese people and as long as the illegal status of the representative of the Chiang Kai-shek clique is not nullified."
