SOMALIA: Mogadiscio may have added at least two more IL-28 light jet bombers to the four it acquired from the USSR last December. Six of the aircraft were observed [redacted] recently at Mogadiscio military airfield.

25X1

The additional bombers will increase concern in Ethiopia, Somalia's traditional enemy. Addis Ababa has been increasingly uneasy over Somalia's military intentions, continuing deliveries of Soviet military equipment, and reasserted claims by Mogadiscio to Somali-inhabited parts of Ethiopia. Although neither side appears anxious for an armed conflict, tensions along the ill-defined border have increased recently following a mutual troop buildup in the area and a few incidents.

The Ethiopians are likely to use the deliveries to dramatize requests for additional US military aid during Emperor Haile Selassie's visit to Washington this month. [redacted]
