DOE review completed.

August 26, 1955

Dear Allen:

As a result of the Geneva Conference we have collected a large amount of information from persons who attended the Conference which should be of considerable value to the intelligence community as a whole in assessing foreign efforts in the field of atomic energy.

This consists of foreign scientific publications, foreign technical papers, reports on meetings and discussions with foreign nationals, and descriptions and photographs of foreign exhibits and displays.

We plan to make full use of our own scientific people in the technical evaluation of this material. In addition I should like to ask for the assistance of certain members of your organization, particularly in connection with additional exploitations of the information obtained at the Conference.

Dr. C. H. Reichardt, our Director of Intelligence, is now in the process of collecting and arranging this Conference material and if you feel you can provide us with assistance I shall ask him to get in touch with whomever you may designate and work out details.

Sincerely yours,

Lewis L. Strauss

Chairman

The Honorable Allen Dulles
