MEMORANDUM FOR DD/S&T

1. I had a call today from Mr. James Webb, Administrator, NASA, stating that one Saturday of each month NASA holds a briefing session on the "big boosters." They have one such briefing scheduled for this coming Saturday, 9 November, which will be a two-and-one-half-hour session, with about 60 people being brought in from all around the country, including von Braun, and representatives from DOD and Mr. Wiesner's office, and he wondered if I would like to come as his guest.

2. I told Mr. Webb that I would be unable to attend but that you are our man on this type thing. He stated that he thought you had been invited in the past when they thought there was enough interest that you would want to be included. He added that they do try to keep this briefing "as an operating thing," but that he would check into this one to see if they felt you might be interested in attending, and if so he would probably be in touch with you.
