badly roughed up by the Soviet intelligence goons there a couple of months back: the Soviets, as could be expected, haven't reacted with so much as a tremor to the diplomatic demarché made to the Soviets here in Washington on this case.

3. Kirk, I believe, at a Morning Meeting not long ago, briefed the multitude on forthcoming operation [redacted] the Command Post exercise which will run this month from 7 to 28 September. I have a background paper for your reading on this subject.

McNamara has written a "Dear John" letter to DCI inviting him to join the President and the other wheels on the ship to which top officials will deploy on about 24 September. The DCI, of course, will not be here. I presume he will write McNamara to tell him this and to offer your services.

4. One of the waiters in the Executive Dining Room, a man named [redacted] has been suffering medical problems growing out of tensions that he has encountered in the course of his work. He has asked for a transfer. He was thoroughly checked out with the Medics who are inclined to think he would suffer the same tensions regardless of the job he is posted to. For this reason, Personnel is at work trying to arrange [redacted] has been somewhat concerned about all this and came to see me. I think I have him reassured, and I have asked [redacted] in Kirk's office and [redacted] to give this some careful attention, and to work hard at getting him properly placed outside. It would be bad timing to have a Negro in the O/DCI become a cause celebre now, and I think special efforts are necessary to forestall this.

5. Congressman Hays has referred a constituent of his to us for possible employment as a language specialist. John Warner has thanked Hays by letter and we will proceed to put him into the Personnel mill.

6. Don Chamberlain advises that a paper tabled by the Soviets at the recent Geneva conference on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy discusses Soviet operating experiences with the nuclear ~~iceberg crusher~~, LENIN. The paper goes into considerable detail on some of the problems the Soviets encountered in the propulsion plant, and the corrective measures they took. The Soviet paper confirms our prior analyses of the problem and supports our belief that most of the old problems have been solved.

7. OTR advises that it has provided training to three separate groups of 15 USAF/OSI personnel since March of this year. Grades of the trainees ranged from Colonel to Tech Sargeant and included four civilians. Curriculum was largely Counter Intelligence and trade craft.

8. I talked today with Col. Mize, the staffer at the Marine Corps School at Quantico. He told me again that he and his colleagues are quite honest in saying that the School never had a speaker who drew so fine a reaction as you did, and that you and I both will receive a cordial invitation to return next year!
