Dear Virginia:

Thank you so much for taking the time to congratulate me on my appointment to the Directorship of Central Intelligence.

The comments contained in your letter are very much appreciated.

One of the advantages of returning to Washington is that we will be back among our old friends.

Rosemary joins in our affectionate regards and the hope that we will see you both soon.

With best regards,

/S/ John (s/by TML)

Mr. Jefferson Caffery

Dear Jeff:

Thank you for your message of November 13th.
I was very pleased to have word from you.

You were very much in mind last week when I visited , and recalled our pleasant visit in recent years, most particularly the luncheon at the North American College.

Warm personal regards,

JA
