MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

SUBJECT: Brief of Study Made by the Wall Street Development Corporation
Re Colombia

1. This study conducted by the Wall Street Development Corporation concerns the economic and social conditions in the Republic of Colombia. The report points out the strategic importance of Colombia to the United States and that its coast provides a wide open door to foreign infiltration. In Colombia, there are only two classes of people, the very rich and the very poor, and out of 14,000,000 people, 250,000 are rich and all the rest are poor with most on the verge of starvation.

2. This company is interested in developing the Colombian island of Tierra Bomba as a tourist and vacation resort and residential communities for North American families of fixed income. This program would provide continuing employment for thousands of workers and would bring American dollars increasingly into that area. The island is strategically located. It is nine kilometers long and about one to three kilometers from the mainland at Cartagena and commands access to the port. Recently, contraband armaments for several uprisings were smuggled to the mainland by way of Tierra Bomba. The company feels that in developing the island of Tierra Bomba, it could help the economy of Colombia by creating a barrier against the spread of Communism.

3. In addition to this proposed project, the company hopes to have similar programs on the islands of Baru, Santa Marta, and Saint Andress, on the Caribbean coast.
