CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

The Honorable Eger V. Murphree
Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Guided Missiles
The Department of Defense
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Murphree:

I write to ~~congratulate you on your appointment to a vital position, and to~~ assure you of the whole-hearted cooperation of this Agency and of the intelligence community in your new post. The nation is fortunate that you have been willing to take on this vital assignment.

In particular, I should like to call your attention to the existence of the Guided Missiles Intelligence Committee (GMIC), a subcommittee created by the Intelligence Advisory Committee very recently for the express purpose of ensuring the fullest and most effective effort in obtaining and publishing intelligence on this subject. The GMIC has its headquarters in the Pentagon and includes representatives of the services and of this Agency. Its Chairman is Lt. Colonel George H. Wilson of the Air Force, and the CIA member is [redacted] of our Office of Scientific Intelligence. I enclose a copy of the terms of reference of the subcommittee.

As I am sure you are aware, we have prepared two coordinated National Intelligence Estimates dealing with Soviet progress in the field of guided missiles, NIE 11-6-54 and NIE 11-12-55. These estimates were based on every scrap of intelligence then available. However, that intelligence is by no means satisfactory to us, and we are engaged in an intensive collection effort in which the GMIC is playing a major coordination role.

The subcommittee
~~Colonel Wilson's~~ group is prepared to discuss with you at any time the problem and how it can best meet your needs. I myself, and this Agency, stand ready to do likewise. I reiterate that we regard your field as perhaps the foremost of all our intelligence responsibilities. I need hardly say that we

one of the most crucial

Sincerely,
