Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Herewith a letter from Colonel of Division [Redacted]

[Redacted]. In it he states his high opinion of [Redacted] the U.S. Defense Attache.

STAT

I must say that from all I know [Redacted] has been performing his duties in an outstanding manner, and I am happy to pass on this "well done" from an old friend.

STAT

Herewith also the booklet on "Presidents of the United States on Intelligence" and some notes about intelligence during the Revolution.

With every good wish,

Faithfully,

/s/Dick

Dear General,

STAT

In some days [redacted]

STAT STAT

[redacted] will leave [redacted] and return to the States. During the three years he spent here I had always excellent relations with him and he fulfilled his duties with discretion and tact. It may be that his modesty hides sometimes his intelligence and wide spread knowledges in political and military affairs. Since I know that the competition in the US Armed Forces is extremely hard, I hope for [redacted] that his qualities are recognised despite his modesty and that it will not hinder his further military career.

STAT

Hoping to see you again in [redacted] soon , I remain with cordial regards,

Sincerely,
