Dear Mr. Cadou:

Many thanks for your most cordial letter of April 16 and your kindness in extending the invitation to be your guest at the Indianapolis Press Club Gridiron Show.

I appreciate your thinking of me again and deeply regret that the pressure of business is such that I will not be able to get away at that time and, therefore, must decline your invitation. Nonetheless, I shall miss being with you and hope that some day I shall have that pleasure again.

All best wishes for a highly successful show.

Sincerely,

W. B. Smith
