2. [Excerpt] Wilhelm-Pieck University will in the future simply be called Rostock University. It was named after the first president of the GDR on 8 January 1978 by a resolution of the then Council of Ministers. At the beginning of this month, 79.2 percent of the scientists, staff, and students who participated in the ballot, voted in favor of the change. However, only 55.1 percent of those entitled to vote actually participated in the ballot. [passage omitted]
