

Fedala.

Moonshine does not want to leave without some written assurance that he will be formally recognized by American and French authorities for the work he has done for both. He helped Lt. Bolton (?) for 6 weeks in Strasbourg without any record or written recognition. He will try to get correct spelling and address of B. from his wife when he sees her--possibly HBH knows this--and I suggest we get some such statement from B. and keep it for Moonshine's satisfaction. This seems to be the main bee in his bonnet.
