OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON

May 4, 1959

(b)(3)

Dear [REDACTED]

General Goodpaster was kind enough to make available to me your interesting report on the visit you recently made to the Soviet Union.

Your analysis of the motivations and attitudes of the Russian people is clear and penetrating and I know that it will be most helpful to me as I prepare to make my trip to Moscow. I have always been interested in this aspect of the problem but it was not possible to obtain good information upon which to base an opinion. I believe that you have done much to fill this gap and I appreciate very much having the benefit of your observations.

With all best wishes,

Sincerely,

(signed) Richard Nixon

[REDACTED]

P.S. Incidentally Mrs. Nixon will be making the trip. I know she will appreciate your comments.
