Mr. Scotti,

Ginetto has been brought to Milan where he will be tried, Tina still at the same place, it is requested that you do not intervene on her behalf offering to exchange prisoners with her for fear things might get worse, as this could be considered as a proof of her activities, as moreover she has the impression that she can manage well by herself. However it would be well to be ready for any eventuality.

I must rectify already given information concerning transmitters: they do not exist, there are two operators. I believe the Major will have given you more ample details.
