Dear Mr. Pye:

As you bring to a close your active career of service to the Central Intelligence Agency, I want to express the Agency's thanks for the many significant contributions you made to the intelligence effort during your twenty-six years of service.

It takes the conscientious efforts of many people to do the important work of this Agency. The exemplary performance which you exhibited in producing many high quality intelligence reports in priority situations contributed to our success in carrying out our mission. I note that you recently have been the recipient of a Certificate of Distinction in recognition of your career contributions to this Agency. The personal successes which you achieved over the years should be a source of lasting satisfaction and pride to you.

I join your friends and colleagues in wishing you health and happiness in the years ahead.

Yours sincerely,

W.S. Stansfield Turner
