

CONTENTS

Summer 1987

	Page
THE CONSTITUTION AND INTELLIGENCE
The Framers on the Realities..... Edward F. Sayle	1
"... As may in their judgment require secrecy" (UNCLASSIFIED)
As Others Saw Us..... Ralph E. Weber	9
Intelligence collection abroad (UNCLASSIFIED)
Where Secrecy Is Essential..... John S. Warner	45
A need to know (UNCLASSIFIED)
View from the Hill..... Lee H. Hamilton	65
Debate amidst scrutiny (UNCLASSIFIED)
The CIA and Congress: Uneasy Partners..... David Gries	77
Oversight (UNCLASSIFIED)
With Fidelity to the Constitution..... William H. Webster	85
To put truth into action (UNCLASSIFIED)
Presidential War Powers..... Fred F. Manget	91
Constitutional basis for foreign intelligence (UNCLASSIFIED)
"You're From Where and You're Doing What?"..... Linda S. McCarthy	105
Pictures for an exhibition (UNCLASSIFIED)

CLASSIFIED ARTICLES

	109
	117

INTELLIGENCE IN RECENT PUBLIC LITERATURE

	123
	124
	127
The Agency: The Rise and Decline of the CIA... William M. Henhoeffler	129
(UNCLASSIFIED)
Silicon Spies	133
(UNCLASSIFIED)
	135

APPROVED FOR RELEASE DATE:
15-Apr-2011

