SLOTH

Georg GEREBKOV

Munich

SLOTH fled Russia in 1920 and went to Yugoslavia where he lived until 1928. He then went to Paris and worked with Russian opera and ballet companies until 1935, and did a considerable amount of travelling. In 1936 he went to Germany and worked in German theater until 1937; he was then hospitalized for two years. In 1940 he was recruited by SS-Hauptsturmfuhrer Dr. ^GKINDELHAUPT, ^{and} ~~he then~~ became a member of the "Russische Abteilung of the Ge topo", was sent to Paris and organized "The Direction of Affairs of Russian Emigrants for France", ^{He} claimed that his work was to expose Soviet agents who had infiltrated into the various emigre organizations in France. He is said to have carried on anti-Soviet, British, American and Jewish propaganda through the Russian language newspaper "Paris Messenger". After the liberation of Paris he came to ^BBerlin and worked very closely with the VLASSOV movement. In February 1945 he tried to flee to Spain via Switzerland but had to give up his attempt and then returned to Germany where he settled in Munich.

He has submitted 42 RIRs dealing with a large number of personalities, suspected Soviet agents, their activities, a long account of Gen. ABRAMOV and his activities in the BOWB, and considerable pre-vetting information on personalities who have since become our sources.
