Konstanty Zygfryd Hanff
Internal Security-Poland

On January 8, 10 and 21, 1976. Konstanty Zygfryd Hanff, a resident of New York City, had contacted the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) for the purpose of advising the following:

He is the editor-publisher of the Polish-English language bulletin, "Wolna Polska" ("Free Poland"), the first issue having been distributed at the Pulaski Day Parade in September, 1975, and printed monthly thereafter. Hanff advised that the purpose of "Wolna Polska" is to alert Americans of Polish background, as well as Polish nationals in the United States, to the activities of representatives of the Polish Government assigned to the United States. Hanff feels that many Polish Government representatives assigned to the United States have assignments, possibly intelligence, other than the position they officially represent. Hanff stated that his letters to Polish representatives will be directed toward the "psychological" aspect, hoping that possibly his letters to these representatives might influence one of them to contact his organization for purposes of cooperation "against the Polish regime". If this happens, he feels he will have been successful in infiltrating the "communist camp".
