REFERENCE(S)	1. During the past two months, it has become necessary to reopen the cases of a number of former CABEZONE defector sources who have been resettled in PBPRIME. Specifically, the cases of DS-806, DS-807, DS-811 and DS-816 have reappeared in one form or another as instances of incomplete or inadequate resettlement. a) DS-806 signed and filed application for repatriation on 30 January 1959. He is reportedly depressed as a result of his inability to secure suitable employment. His present status is uncertain. b) DS-807 is the subject of EGOA-2789, dated 8 January 1959, and therefore HARVARD is aware of his plight. c) DS-811 wrote to his former CABEZONE case officer on 8 January 1959 complaining of inability to find employment and lack of rehabilitation assistance after departure from HARVARD. d) DS-816 is reported to be very discouraged, unable to find permanent employment, and thinking of returning to Germany. 2. KUJUMP has agreed to contact the above individuals and to provide them with appropriate assistance in readjusting to their new environment. It is hoped that such aid will resolve their difficulties and assure successful resettlement. 3. Your attention is invited to the fact that each of these cases was brought to PBPRIME under KMGRANTER sponsorship. Apparently, the rather extensive welfare activities of KMGRANTER make it difficult for that organization to provide a high degree of individual attention to HARVARD cases. Since the question of KMGRANTER's capabilities and inclinations in this regard has been raised on previous occasions, there seems to be little point in pressing the issue further through direct KUBARK-KMGRANTER negotiations. It is suggested that HARVARD circumvent this problem by channeling more of its PBPRIME resettlement cases to the appropriate "national" organizations, such as Tolstoy Foundation, Polish Immigration Committee, AFCE, AJDC, etc., and reserving KMGRANTER sponsorship for cases in which little or no employment difficulties are anticipated. 4. In a few PBPRIME resettlement cases, the language barrier has been a prime cause of maladjustment and inability to obtain suitable employment. The importance of English language training - for those who lack such knowledge and who are scheduled for resettlement in PBPRIME - should be stressed. It is strongly urged that HARVARD give continued emphasis to the provision of such training, where appropriate, as a matter of routine. 5. Headquarters would appreciate your comments on the practicability of the suggestions contained herein.
