Following should facilitate your dealings with Subject:

1. Villax and family are now in Clermont Ferrand, near Lyon, France. He indicated to Subject before his departure that someone else would take over contact with Subject. The latter requested Villax to furnish a personal description of the man who will approach him, however, Villax left in the meantime and the description was not furnished.
2. The letter which Subject is holding for oxytone is signed "P. Onion".
3. Villax and Subject agreed on the following cover names: Gerharda - Gisella
Ssilagyí - Seppl
Feltorony - Felocs
4. Attached please find a letter written by Villax to me which can be shown to Subject only in part, i.e., the last page which contains no classified information. Following is a translation of this letter:

"Dear uncle Robert:

"Arrived safely and now I want you to have my address without delay and also to report on several matters.

The Agricultural University of Magyarovar, Keszthely and Debrecen were closed down recently. It is planned that the universities in Budapest should be supplemented with cathedras for agricultural sciences, however space is not available as yet. (As I have mentioned already, the buildings which were used for this purpose since the end of the war, had to be returned to the "Haditechnikai" Institute (Technological Institute of Warfare). It is planned that all agricultural experimental stations under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of Agriculture will be dissolved. These are to be replaced by a single "Agro-biological Institute" to be erected at Martonvasarhely (this from Barna)."

Bela works in the Bureau of Statistics as auxiliary help. It is not easy now-a-days to pursue one's studies at the university.

I hope to receive a few lines from you shortly and hope that your crowded schedule won't keep you from writing.

It is very likely that I will spend the month of August at the University of Strassbourg in order to familiarise myself with the use of an electric microscope.

Father obtained an excellent position as "assistant director" with a four-room furnished apartment and good salary. I am also working at the same place but is is likely that I will spend the month of May in Bern.

With cordial regards, yours sincerely, Ivan V.

Address: Clermont-Ferrand, Centre de Recherches Agronomiques, Route de Lyon, France."
