b. Prof. Ulrich KEYSER-FICHBERG Ulrich KEIL -KEIL is now Chief of ZIPPER's combined Reports, Translation and Editing Office. Prior to ZIPPER's assumption of all reports responsibility last March, he was merely Chief, Translation Section. His English, which is one of several languages, is about as good as can be expected from an individual who is not bi-lingual and who remains in the country of his birth. He is the only German in the organization whom I have seen dictate translations direct from the German at rapid speed. Reports which he has done personally are usually accurate, concise and without need of revision. Being a perfectionist, he pursues his study of the English language. This summer, between 23 August and 13 September, he attended an advanced English course at Oxford. For the benefit of UJ-DREDDER, KEIL recently moved his family from Obersdorf, where he had maintained residence since the war, to Gruenwald, a suburb of Munich across the Isar from Pullach. LORITZ GLORING who worked as a translator for several years after the war and who now works as a case officer for OW B in the Hamburg area is a brother-in-law of KEIL. KEIL married his sister.
