Thank you for your call and quick reaction to my request for medical information.

The life is going on, I am very busy with my Estonian work and the worries about the New York State income taxes for the years when I worked in Washington. Now, in addition, are coming the worries about the health; the doctor did not like the condition of my prostate gland.

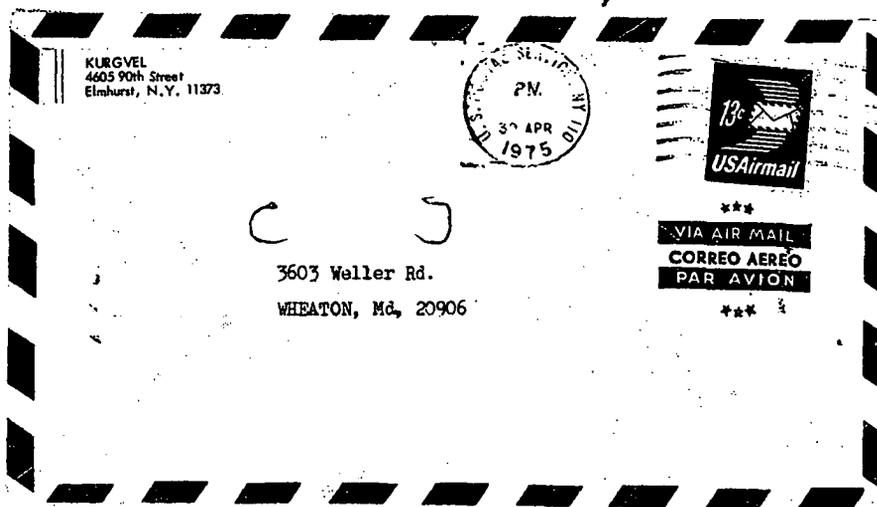

I would appreciate it very much if you would push for a favorable decision to my request for financial help in tax matters which I filed with your office when I still was working for you.
