O'CONNOR, LEAD: THE ironies permeating tonight's showing at 8 o'clock of "Playing for Time" are little short of dizzying. CBS-TV is under considerable fire while presenting a production that, given television's notorious tendency to push "entertainment values," is remarkable for its artistic integrity. Then, several Jewish organizations that lauded the superficial and gimmicky "Holocaust" series now find themselves opposing a film of infinitely more sensitivity and power.
