September 13 marks the inauguration of radio broadcasts, in the name of the NCFA, to Albania. The initial broadcasts were scheduled to begin today from Athens, where equipment used to date in the Bulgarian operation will also be used for Albanian transmissions. The first broadcast emphasizes the growing strength of the resistance to the Communist regime and reports the death of Thomas Prifti, Communist committee leader of Gramsh. As reported previously, Prifti was killed in an engagement with the FIEND Pear Team. To date, this has not been acknowledged by the Communists.
