SUBJECT { GENERAL UPSWING/Plans
SPECIFIC Wartime Aerial Support Requirements

1. UPSWING, as a part of their war preparations, desires to levy requirements on the German Air Force for the anticipated type and quantity of aerial support which is considered necessary to enable UPSWING to fulfill their wartime mission.

2. UPSWING envisions a need for aerial support in the following fields:

a. Aerial drops of personnel and materials behind enemy lines to prepared sites serviced by a reception committee as well as blind drops.

b. Landings at clandestine sites behind enemy lines for delivery and pickup of personnel and material.

c. Pickup, without landing, of material and/or personnel.

d. Over-flight collection of electronic signals.

3. In order to present an intelligent and practicable requirement, @WENDT has requested assistance from KUBARK in drawing up the recommended specifications. He assumed that specific AF units have been organized and equipped to support KUBARK for clandestine type missions. Desired recommendations include:

a. Organization and strength (T/O) for the unit.

b. Types or characteristics of desired aircraft.

c. Special equipment required for aircraft.

d. Special training appropriate for the crews to insure ability to provide desired aerial capability.
