Insension has broken out within the Legionnaire Movement; the authority of Subject is alleged to be at stake. Subject's enemies are attacking him on a personal plane by spreading the rumor that he has a mistress and an illegitimate child (EV: F-6). During his trip to Salzburg, in Nov. or Dec. '53, it is alleged that even among his most intimate followers, there was an attitude of disrespect and disobedience. There is a crisis regarding leadership in the Iron Guard(qv). Numerous SIDA adherents are deviating from Subject; however, the Salzburg group, Vasile HAILAT, Radu MIRCEA, and Traian BOROBARU (qqv) remain faithful to Subject.

Subject in disfavor with members of the Guard; is allegedly not a question of his secession but rather Subject's renunciation by almost the entire Guardist group. Source states motive for "revolution" among members due to Subject's questionable private life(see above). Source claims that Subject, realizing his position abroad is definitely compromised, plans to end his adventurous career gloriously by parachuting into Rumania.
