

Contingency Statement

Richard Helms, the Director of Central Intelligence, said today that a news story alleging that the White House had ordered the Central Intelligence Agency to bug the Democratic National Headquarters in the Watergate buildings is completely false. There is not a shread of truth to this story, the Director added.

cc: OGC