Director stated his testimony was along the lines as that of Mr. Acheson's presentation this morning. During conference with President, Pres. Mr. George Bookman, Time Magazine, RE 6050 (tel) - Informed him that no more appointments were being made for the Director this week, since his schedule was full.

Later, telegram received from Mr. Bookman explaining that, in connection with Korean developments, Time Magazine is planning major story on role U.S. intelligence played in events leading to crisis, including appraisal of charges made that CIA did not provide sharp warning of North Korean attack; story to center on Director and administration of CIA. Requests few minutes to discuss article with Director.

Although Director would prefer no photographs, he indicated he would grant request for pictures.

Mr. R. P. Brandt, St. Louis Post Dispatch (tel) - Informed him Director was out. He requested that Director be advised of his call his desire for an appointment.

Later, Director returned Mr. Brandt's call. Re report that CIA did not evaluate intelligence reports, Director advised this is misunderstood: CIA does evaluate and interpret facts, but does not support, endorse oppose or ~~endorse~~ policy statements. CIA is not entirely a collecting agency, but a coordinating agency for intelligence reports from Army, Navy, Air, State, and our own agents - the greater portion of reports received from outside the Agency. All reports are coordinated, evaluated and disseminated to proper offices in Washington, with absolutely no statements of policy. CIA has very good Service men and civilians in clandestine work, and only trouble is that the civilians are offered better pay outside the Agency. CIA receives about 20,000 reports a month from State, Army, Navy and Air, in addition to approximately 10,000 reports from our own people. No mention should be made that CIA receives information from business corporations re foreign contacts.

Mr. Walter Pforzheimer, OGC - In connection with article in Herald-Tribune, DCI authorized Mr. Pforzheimer to talk informally with Walter Millis, chief editorial writer for the paper, and explain what happened. THURSDAY, 29 JUNE 1950 - 3

General Bolling, G-2, Army (tel) - Asked for Director, but was informed he was attending a meeting and his call was referred to Mr. Shannon, who reported the following:

General Bolling stated he had received a letter signed by DCI indicating that CIA was not getting full information and cooperation from ID in connection with the current crisis. General Bolling stated they wanted CIA to have full access to and knowledge of every development in connection with this crisis, and he wished to know personally and specifically wherein G-2 had failed so that he could take immediate corrective action. He further stated that one CIA representative [redacted] (ORE) attended the Tokyo teleconference every morning, and G-2 is ready and waiting for us to designate a member to have constant unrestricted access to their most secret war room which is utilized by Mr. Johnson himself. Mr. Shannon assured General Bolling that CIA appreciates his reaction and that the main basis for the letter which Gen Bolling received was recent difficulty in getting our people to the proper person in his office a clearance for the receipt of certain information which we must have. Mr. Shannon told him that he would check and either call him back or suggest that Director do so.

Mr. Shannon talked with Dr. Andrews and received better idea of basis for letter which was prepared for DCI signature, and asked AD/OCD, in view of the fact he had more knowledge of this situation than rest, to call Gen. Bolling personally and tell the General that Mr. Shannon had requested him to call. In connection with access to their most highly classified war room, Mr. Shannon told Dr. Andrews to inform General Bolling we would designate someone immediately and will inform him of the individual designated.

Mr. Shannon suggests, if DCI does not desire to be designated personally, that Mr. Babbitt be authorized access to this room as the official CIA representative.

Mr. Shannon later reported Dr. Andrews had talked to Gen Bolling and pointed up the specific question of clearances of our people for obtaining certain types of information which has been very difficult or impossible to obtain up to this time. Gen Bolling recognized the problem and stated it may be necessary for him to go higher up to obtain the proper clearances for our liaison people. In the meanwhile, he expressed the desire to meet the CIA liaison representatives with G-2, and they are going over to his office this afternoon.

Later, Dr. Andrews reported very favorable visit of CIA liaison representatives with Gen Bolling; that Gen Bolling escorted CIA representatives to war room and instructed G-2 people to make all information available to CIA.
