Dear Lindsey,

Several calls this week to the Central Bank have resulted in their response that there will be an undetermined delay in remittance.

The best information I could obtain was to be told that this was all explained to Air America and to your lawyer. I suspect that it is related to the confirmation of the Executive Yuan's decision and normal bureaucratic delays. With the Chinese New Year holidays this coming week, I anticipate there will be several more days delay. I thought in the meantime you might wish to telex or telephone your lawyer for a clarification or follow up.

Pretty much what I was told - i.e. probably not able to get prior to Chinese NY and that we should expect a delay of several weeks.

Sincerely,

Roger W. Beckner
