MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

Staff Meeting Minutes of 1 December 1980
The Director chaired the meeting.	25X1
The Director noted he will brief the President today at 1330 hours and will present an encapsulated version of NIE 11/3-8, which was the last portion of the strategic balance briefing given the President-Elect.	25X1
The Director reported on two meetings at SAC last week. One was with General Ellis, CINC/SAC; the other was with a SAC briefing team, which reviewed for the Director, the approach to evaluating the strategic balance. The team also discussed the U.S. manned penetration bomber versus the cruise missile and its delivery system. SAC is in favor of the manned system since it is considerably less expensive than the cruise missile system (three manned bombers can be bought for the price of one missile system). According to SAC, they are not in favor of building the B-1 bomber but prefer to wait for the Stealth bomber.	25X1
The SAC briefing team's analysis of Soviet advances in strategic forces is similar to CIA's, i.e., the Soviets will be ahead in the early 80's but the advantage will shift to the U.S. in the mid and late 80's. The SAC team said that their analysis was in synch with those of SAGA, PA&E, and Rand. The Director said he explained to the briefing team that when the Soviets see the advantage beginning to swing to the U.S., they will have to do something, be it the use of mobile missile launchers, more SLBMs, etc., to reduce the vulnerability of their strategic systems.	25X1
The Director said he would also brief the President on Poland and asked what the significance was of the closure of restricted areas in East Germany. Clarke said this was covered Clarke observed that the exercises taking place near Poland were unscheduled and were unprecedented for this time of the year and said these events were causing further concern about Soviet intentions and that the whole situation was going to be covered	25X1 25X1
activity could be related to preparations for intervention in Poland or could be taking place to intimidate the Poles.	25X1 25X1 25X1
