[redacted] serviced several requesters during this period. [redacted] FBIS, came in to xerox part of our copy of the FDD History so that FBIS could answer a query on the JPRS from the New York Times, as directed by Public Affairs. FBIS had been unable to find that section in their copy due to what turned out to be an inaccurate reference. [redacted]

[redacted] OGI, came in to begin reading the histories on counterinsurgency that [redacted] had arranged some time ago for them to see. They decided on one history concerning operations in Laos that they want to use in a training course they are giving and will ask FE for a release. They also asked about histories of the Guatemala operation [redacted] and [redacted] suggested several books on the subject. [redacted] Academic Coordinator, called about a professor who had gotten the impression the Agency might be of help to her on writing about Vietnam. [redacted] confirmed [redacted] view that this was a wrong impression and then filled [redacted] in on what the Defense and State historians are doing toward making Vietnam materials available to the public.

Ken talked to [redacted] ORD, and another officer about the History Staff. They apparently are exploring the idea of setting up an Intelligence War College.

STAT

Bob had a six-hour interview with James Angleton, though much of the time was spent on matters not directly related to Bob's topic. Bob has been in telephone contact again with [redacted] He has also received a copy of a letter from Chuck Briggs to the Clerk of the House requesting access to the jointly held-documents he needs.

Bob was presented with the Sherman Kent Award for the best article in Studies in Intelligence at an award ceremony yesterday.

Ken and Bob are both attending two days of meetings of the Society for the History of American Foreign Relations being held at George Washington University.

Don continues to work every Wednesday in OSO/OSAD putting out a newsletter for them. Our Agency want-ad for a rotational replacement for him has been circulated.
