FOREWORD

This gazetteer includes the names of physical and cultural features in Iraq. It contains about 2,000 entries. The scale of coverage is generally 1:1,000,000, but the coastal area is covered at larger scale.

In a few cases where adequate information was available, the transliteration system of the United States Board on Geographic Names has been used in standardizing the names. In the absence of adequate Arabic sources, the First List of Names in Iraq (Mesopotamia), published by the Permanent Committee on Geographical Names for British Official Use (PCGN), 1932, and maps published by the Survey of India and the Geographical Section, General Staff have been relied upon as sources. In accordance with the policy of PCGN and other authorities, the definite article has been written with the vowel e, and the l of the article has been assimilated when followed by d, dh, n, r, s, sh, t, th, or z.

Interpretation of entries

It has been necessary to express in code numbers and letters some of the information regarding places and features listed in the gazetteer in order to accommodate the information to the machine method of tabulation.

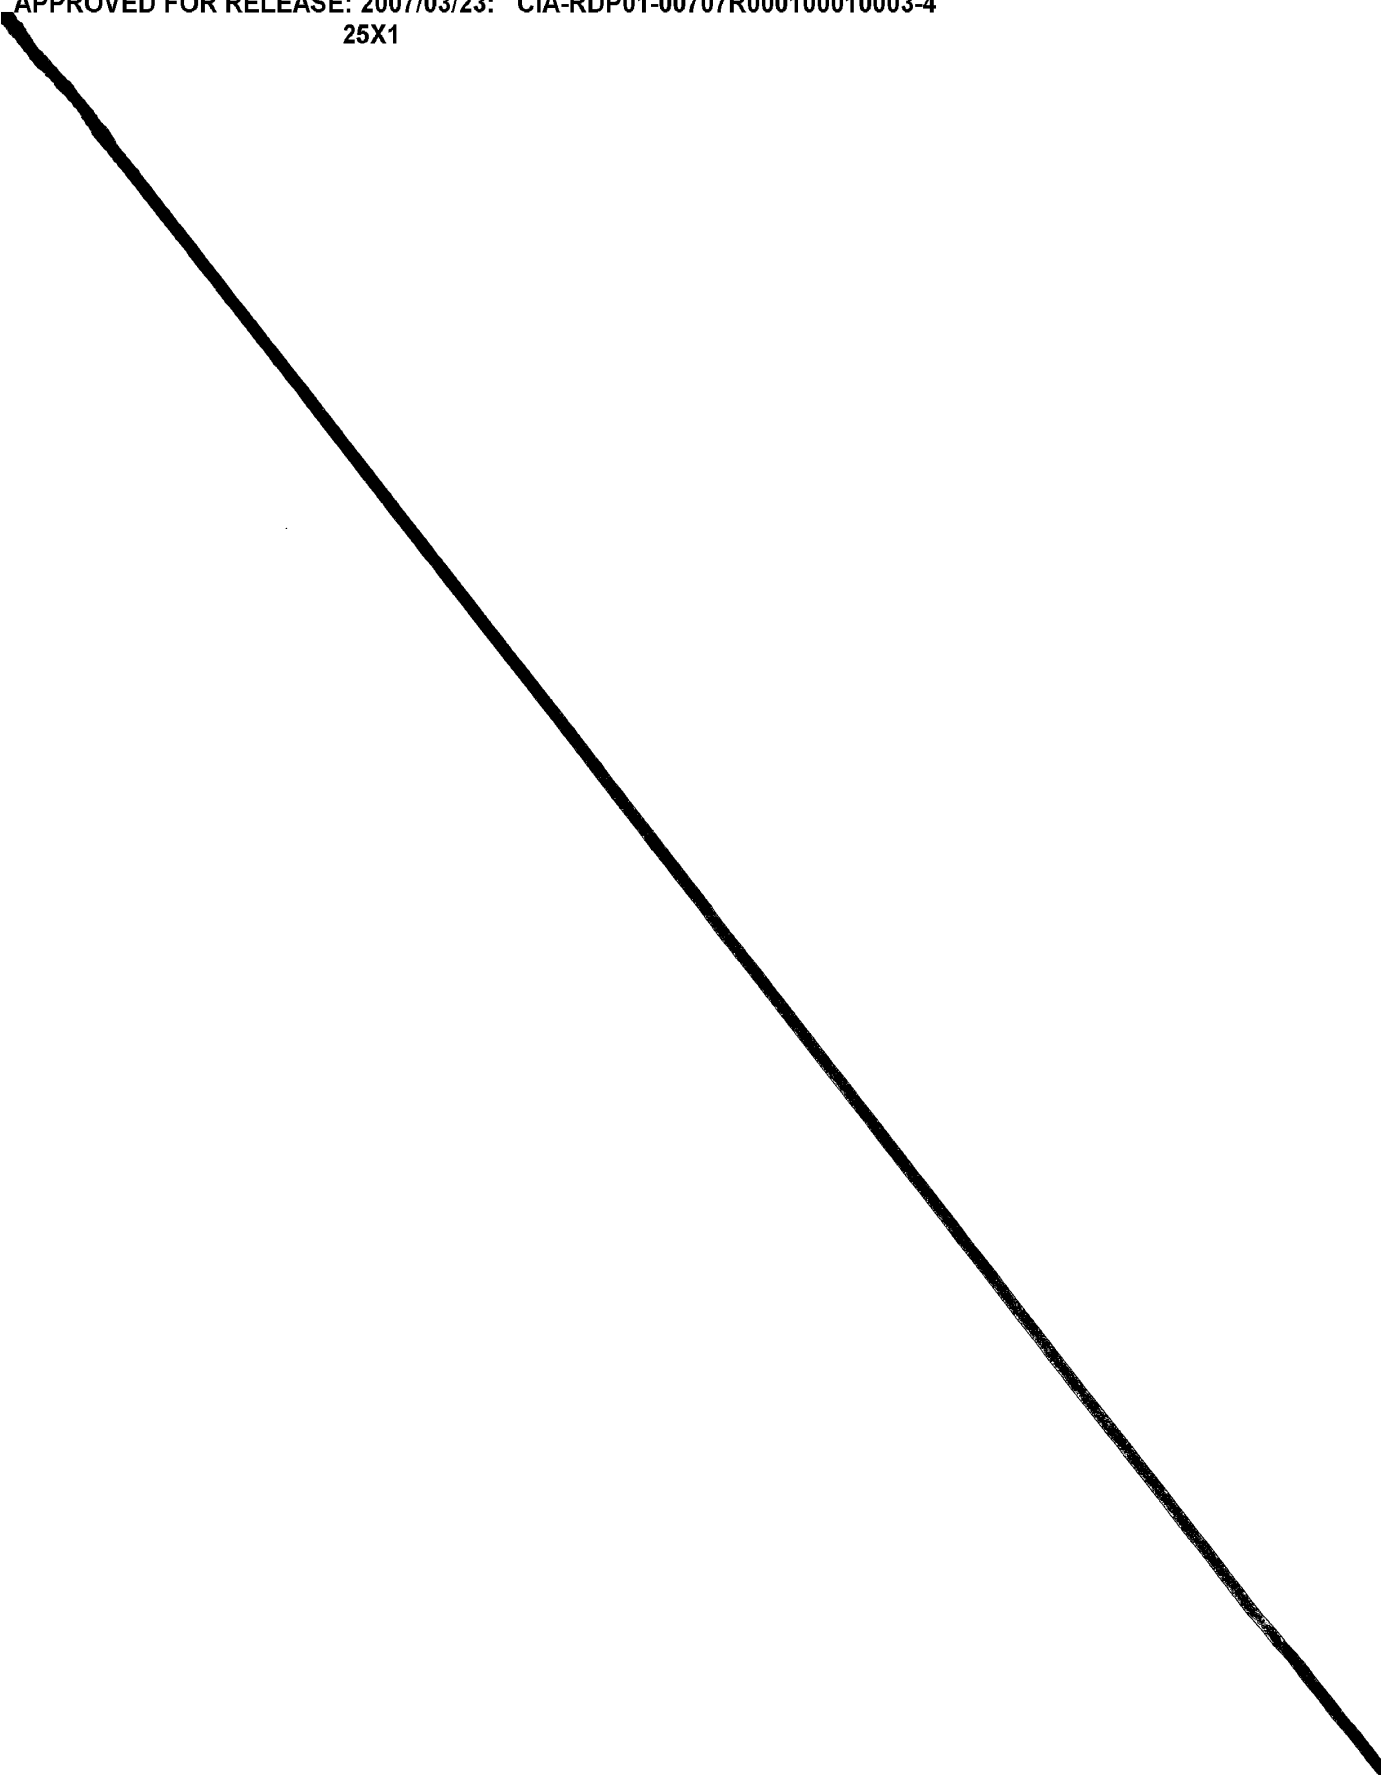

Name.--Standard names and cross-references from variant spellings are listed in the first column. In some cases, more than one name is approved for a feature, and the gazetteer entry includes the two or three approved names; an example is the entry Al Mûsil [Arabic]; Mosul [conventional]. In a few cases also, a part of a name is underlined; in such cases (as Ur of the Chaldees), the use of the nonunderscored part is optional.

Names beginning with a generic term (see Glossary) are regularly alphabetized by the specific part of the name; Jabal Abatah (entered as Abatah, Jabal) is an example.

For a few features, available sources provide only non-Arabic names, and these are listed in an English form, without diacritical marks and with English generic terms; Atlassi Shoal and Ruz Canal are examples.

Designation.--The following abbreviations have been used in
