FOREWORD

This gazetteer consists of three volumes. Volumes I and II contain about 37,600 entries on places and features in China, including the region of Manchuria but excluding the areas listed as in Volume III. Volume III contains about 17,570 entries; 300 for Hong Kong (pages 1-9), 70 for Macao (pages 11-13), 4,775 for Sinkiang (pages 15-147), 10,325 for Taiwan (pages 149-411), and 2,100 for Tibet (pages 413-69).

Glossary of generic terms

Generic terms occurring in the standard names in the gazetteer are listed below. Each of the meanings given applies in the case of one or more of the standard names. The language of generic terms is indicated by symbol:

Interpretation of entries

It has been necessary to express in code numbers and letters some of the information regarding places and features listed in the gazetteer in order to accommodate it to the machine method of tabulation.

Name.—Standard names and cross-references from variant names appear in the first column. Where two or more names are approved for a feature, each is identified in parentheses and any or all may be used. Where part of a name is underlined, the use of the nonunderlined part is optional. Names that include both specific and generic elements are alphabetized by specific part; for example, Cape Adkins (the English name of Ch'an-shan T'ou) is listed as Adkins, Cape. In writing names in capitals and lower-case letters, parts of names following hyphens are to be lower-cased, and parts that are separate words are to be capitalized. Where sources show various features, such as a spring, a well, or a halting place, at the same location, as in western China, only one name is approved. The other place names applied at this location, whatever they designate, are cross-referenced to the recommended name.

Designation.—Designations in the second column are sometimes abbreviated and represent groups of features, as follows:

ADMD	administrative district, subdistrict	BANK	bank(s), underwater flats, submerged ridge

PASS	pass, mountain pass	UPLD	upland, plateau
PEAK	peak(s)	URBA	urban area

Latitude and longitude.--Coordinates (third and fourth columns) are for finding purposes only. They were read to the nearest minute, but on a given source a feature may be some distance from the location stated. Locating places exactly in China is generally difficult, often impossible. In large areas of central, northern, and western China, differences of 5 to 10 minutes in latitude and 10 to 20 minutes in longitude are common. Variations of a full degree in longitude have been found.

For streams, coordinates were taken at the mouth; for sections of streams, at the lower end.

For districts (hsien) and municipalities (shih) coordinates were generally taken at the administrative center. The administrative center of a hsien has the same specific name as the hsien. When the administrative center is moved, the town at the new location is given the name of the hsien, while the former location is given another name, such as a former name or the hsien name with a prefix or a suffix.

Administrative division.--The number in the fifth column is the code number assigned the area or subdivision in which the place or feature, or some part of it, is located, as follows:

4435 Taiwan	4436 Kwangsi	4462 Shensi
4400 China (general)	4437 Yünnan	4463 Shansi
4422 Shantung	4438 Kweichow	4464 Hopeh
4423 Kiangsu	4443 Hunan	4466 Jehol
4424 Anhwei	4445 Hupeh	4467 Chahar
4425 Chekiang	4447 Honan	4468 Suiyüan
4426 Kiangsi	4453 Szechwan	4469 Ningsia
4427 Fukien	4455 Sikang	4470 Manchuria
4432 Kwangtung	4457 Tsinghai	4484 Sinkiang
4433 Hong Kong	4461 Kansu	4486 Tibet
4434 Macao

Source.--The code number in the last column indicates a source where the feature may be located by its standard name or a name recognizable as a variant of its standard name. (The variation frequently is in such suffixes as -chen, -ch'eng, -chieh, -chuang, -hsü, -shih, and -ts'un.) The numbers refer to the following sources (for Chinese titles and publishing data, conventional translations are given):
