This Gazetteer is issued as a standard component of the National Intelligence Survey for Iceland and lists official standard names approved by the United States Board on Geographic Names. These names supersede all previous decisions on geographic names in this area. This Gazetteer also lists the variants of official standard names for reference purposes. These variants are not approved as standard names.

This Gazetteer will be adequately maintained by published revision.

FOREWORD

This gazetteer contains about 16,500 entries for places and features in Iceland. The entries include standard names approved by the Board on Geographic Names and unapproved variant names, the latter cross-referenced to the standard names. Users of the gazetteer should always refer to main entries for approved names.

The names in this gazetteer supersede those in all previous Board lists for the area.

The map scale of name coverage is approximately 1:250,000.

Interpretation of entries

It has been necessary to express in code numbers and letters some of the information in the gazetteer in order to accommodate it to the machine method of tabulation.

Name. — Approved standard names and unapproved variant names appear in the first column. The variant names are always cross-referenced to the standard names by use of the word "see." Where part of a name is underlined, the use of the part not underlined is optional. Where two or more names are approved for a feature, each is identified in parentheses and any or all may be used.

The diacritical marks used in the approved names are the acute accent (´) used on vowels, as in múli, and the umlaut (¨) used on the letter o, as in höfði. They are to be used whether the names are written in capital or lowercase letters. The Icelandic letter ð (edh) is transliterated as dh, as in fjörður (for fjördur). Similarly, the letter þ (thorn) is transliterated as th, as in thúfa (for þúfa). The digraph æ, as in bæli, should be written æ wherever possible, or in special situations as æe, but never as two separate letters.

In the Icelandic alphabet vowels with acute accents follow the same letters without them, the letter d follows d, and the letters þ, æ, and ö follow z at the end of the alphabet. In this gazetteer, however, vowels with diacritical marks are alphabetized the same as unmarked vowels, dh and th (the d and þ in transliterated form) are alphabetized as in English, and the æ as though it were ae.

All separate words except prepositions and conjunctions are capitalized in Icelandic names.

Designation. — The second column contains designations or abbreviations of designations, as listed below. Since practically all geographic terms have varied meanings, the senses in which the designator terms are used and the range of features to which they are applied in this gazetteer are stated in the list to reduce ambiguity. The distinctions that can be made in a given gazetteer will vary with the quality of the maps of the area and with the nature of the entities that are named.

Latitude and longitude. — Coordinates, in the third and fourth columns, are for finding purposes only. They were generally read to the nearest minute. For precise location, large-scale maps should be used.

Coordinates were read at the map symbol for populated places and other entities occupying limited sites, at the mouths or lower ends of streams, at the summits of mountains and hills, at the extremities of capes and points, near the centers of areas, and at the midpoints of most other features.

Area number. — The number in the fifth column indicates the administrative unit in which the place or feature is located, as listed below.

Iceland is divided into twenty-three sýslur (singular, sýsla), some of which are combined for national administrative purposes, as indicated in the list. In addition, fourteen cities and towns (kaupstadhir; singular, kaupstadhur) are independent of the sýslur and separately administered. For purposes of locating them, however, these populated places are given the same area numbers as the sýslur in which they are geographically situated. The independent cities and towns are Keflavík (22901), Hafnarfjörður (22901), Kópavogur (22901), Reykjavík (22901), Akranes (22903), Ísafjörður (22909), Sauðhárkrúkur (22914), Siglufjörður (22915), Ólafsfjörður (22915), Akureyri (22915), Húsavík (22916), Seyðisfjörður (22913), Neskaupstaður (22919), and Vestmannaeyjar (22922).

22921	Vestur-Skaftafellssýsla

The general number (22900) is used for international features and entities common to more than one sýsla, including offshore features and those in the interior of the country where sýsla boundaries are not demarcated.

Locational reference. — The number in the last column indicates a map on which the feature may be located by its standard name or a recognizable variant of its standard name, as follows:

- 01 Uppdráttur Islands, Geodetic Institute, Copenhagen, various dates; scale 1:250,000, nine sheets.
- 02 Uppdráttur Islands, Geodetic Institute, Copenhagen, various dates; scale 1:100,000, about 100 sheets.

The code 00 is used for cross-references and for the standard names to be found only on references other than those listed above.

Glossary of generic terms

The following terms occur in the standard names listed in the gazetteer. They are most frequently written together with specific name elements to form single words. The meanings given include those supported by application to features named in the gazetteer, whether or not these meanings are given in dictionaries. It is not uncommon in Iceland to find plural generic terms applied to features designated in the singular form in the gazetteer. As a reference aid, singular forms of words listed in the plural form are given in parentheses.
