Management Principles and Problems
17 February 1954

Points noted here

Need for clearer definitions of responsibilities
Greater delegation of responsibility with commensurate authority
Need for under-study policy for each supervisory position
The meaning of rotation,- policy and procedures
Planning,- especially with reference to personnel changes
Shanghaiing military and operational personnel for training positions
Now that we are reasonably shaken down organizationally, to lick the problem of inadequately trained personnel.
Coordination with out-of-town activities
Our contribution to operational doctrine: C.O.S
The sales aspect of training.
