1. [redacted] informed me yesterday that he has become involved in a [redacted] desk in connection with the upcoming celebration in [redacted]. Erik apparently called the desk some time ago and suggested that some of the material in the OSS files revealing the true nature of the [redacted] which he had worked on himself, be de-classified and released through US newspapers. After due deliberation the desk bought the suggestion and Erik is now participating in a series of conferences to select the proper materials.

2. I had a talk yesterday with [redacted] shop about the preparation of a Communist handbook. He has some very good ideas about how it should be put together, but I was shocked to learn of the minimum support he and [redacted] had been able to secure from SIC. They have only raw transcriptions of the SIC JOT program lectures which they are preparing to edit and consolidate. I informed [redacted] that his shop could count on SIC's doing this job of putting the materials in a more usable form - since only the lecturer himself can do a proper editing job. We will plan to work much more closely with [redacted] on this particular project.
