

Senate

MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1962

The Senate met at 12 o'clock meridian, and was called to order by the President pro tempore.

Dr. M. Jackson White, pastor, First Baptist Church of Clarendon, Arlington, Va., offered the following prayer:

Our Father, we come into Thy presence to thank Thee for the gift of Thy Son, and to recognize Thee as the giver of grace and love sufficient for our every need. Help us, we pray, to be humble enough to call upon Thee for wisdom, and to be courageous enough to follow Thy leadership.

As we seek to find the ways of peace for our generation, may we not forget that the ways of the Prince of Peace upon this earth were ways of love and sacrifice.

Grant that each of us may recognize the responsibility that is ours under God for the good of our fellow men everywhere. May we use the authority entrusted to us to establish equal rights for all, and to persevere in seeking the greatest benefit to all.

Give, we pray, to our President, health, wisdom, and courage commensurate to the demands that are made upon him.

May Thy Holy Spirit who was promised to "lead us into all truth" be granted to guide the deliberations of this body today.

This we ask through the grace of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Amen.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, the nominations will be considered en bloc; and, without objection, they are confirmed.

Mr. LONG of Missouri. Mr. President, I want to commend my colleagues for the action they have just taken in unanimously confirming the nominations of John W. Oliver to be U.S. district judge for the western district of Missouri, and John K. Regan to be U.S. district judge for the eastern district of Missouri. It was my privilege to serve as chairman of the Judiciary subcommittee that inquired into their qualifications or appointment as Federal judges, and it was certainly no surprise to those of us who have known these two men both professionally and personally over a great number of years, that they were found eminently qualified in every respect.

Mr. Oliver, of Kansas City, Mo., was born, raised, and educated in Missouri. Both his undergraduate and law degrees were earned at the University of Missouri. As a practicing attorney in Kansas City since 1936, he has earned the reputation of being one of the most able members of the Missouri bar. He has authored a number of published legal articles of note, and throughout his career, has given generously of himself to the service of the legal profession by way of service on numerous boards and study commissions, as well as to the civic and public organizations of his community and his State. For a number of years, he has been a book reviewer for the Kansas City Star in the fields of history, government, and politics.

Judge Regan, who leaves the bench of the circuit court of the city of St. Louis to assume his new duties in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, has distinguished himself as a lawyer and as a judge. He, too, is a native Missourian, and has received all of his education in his home State. His professional life began as a prosecuting attorney, led next to several years of a widely diversified and very active private legal practice in St. Louis, from which he was elevated to the State judiciary. As a practitioner and as a judge, he has been a studious and diligent servant in every sense of the word. His fellow attorneys and judges have strongly endorsed this appointment, as has the general public of the community he has well served for so many years.

The experience and demonstrated abilities that Mr. Oliver and Judge Regan bring with them to their new judicial offices will be great assets to our Federal court system, and our Nation is indeed fortunate to have them join its judicial branch.
