

TOO MUCH TALK

A ~~COPYRIGHTED~~ interview with Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, published in the current U. S. News & World Report magazine, is entitled "We Tell Russia Too Much."

Mr. Dulles proves his point by doing just that in the course of this interview.

After remarking that he would give a good deal to know as much about the Soviet Union as the Soviet Union can learn about us merely by reading the press, Mr. Dulles proceeded to outline the operations of his supposedly super-secret agency for publication in this magazine. Some of the details he so willingly supplied should be very useful to the Soviets.

Which suggests that the difficulty of getting well-qualified people for intelligence work, of which he complained, is not confined to the so-called rank and file.
