More Dangerous Than Ever

ALLEN W. DULLES, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, recently appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee released a statement in which Mr. Dulles remarked that the Kremlin had been checkmated in the use of brute force but is going straight ahead to use more peaceful means to gain its immediate objective — control in free countries. He said that "in several countries Communist penetrations are serious."

The Italian Parliament has 143 Communist members, which, added to left-wing Socialists, gives a total of 218. In Italy, 9,500,000 voted the Communist ticket in 1953. This was 34.5 per cent of the total vote. There are 150 Communist members in the French Chamber of Deputies. The Communist party received more than 6,000,000 votes in the 1955 Indonesian election. In Japan the Communist party went from a few thousand to more than a million votes in recent general elections.

Dulles concluded: "The Communists propose to infiltrate our parliamentary governments and to use the freedom which our system of government gives to destroy all vestiges of that system. * * * There is no instance where the Communists have taken over a country by free elections or have obtained a parliamentary majority by free elections." And then Mr. Dulles points up the fact that the Communists have moved in and taken over "always without having a majority status." Here is the heart of the whole matter.

This confirms J. Edgar Hoover's statement that the Communist party's "new look" is more dangerous to America than the old.
